HONGRONG, BATURDAY, JULY 5, 1884.:

Oun re-constructed Legislative Council

Settlements, Batavia, Burmah, Ceylon, display of soldiery, Sikh constables and the Australasian Colonies, Pondickery, lukongs, and in the presence of leaders Madras, Calcutta, Aden, Mauritius, of society and fashion in this gorgeous Colony of the Far East, the last performance of the legislative session has taken place, and the curtain has descended, not to be raised again until November. Honorable members of the Council will regret that after their arduous legislative exertions of the last Mails, &c., by the French Contract four months they are unable to retire for a time to truly rural pursuits, or to enjoy a tour abroad. True, we have a Continent in this part of the world open Post Office closes, except the to travel-the continent of China, but NIGHT Box, which is always its odours are too strong, its sun too hot, and its means of accommodation and communication too bad, to make it a couring ground for jaded legislators. In making a few remarks at the propogation, Mr Ryrie observed that it among the new unofficial members during the session must be given to the Honorable Wong Shing; that he has made a longer speech in the Council nings, M.A., Colonial Chaplain. Morning than either Mr Jackson or Mr Sassoon. Service: 11, Evening 5. Hely Com- The Council as at present constituted, munion every Sunday, except the 2nd and in regard to both its official and nonofficial clament, is not likely, in fact, to astonish the community with any dazzling displays of oratory. Its president, Sir George Bowen, is the only member who has exhibited so far Soldiers' Service, 7.30 a.m. -Rev. J. Col- u penchant for ruetoric. Mr Price can ville. Service in Chinese, 2 P.M. Rev. J. speak well when the occasion arises. but he is not apparently fond of addressing the Council. The Attorney General would doubtless often impart much valuable information viva voce, if one could only hear distinctly what he says. LONDON MISSION CHAPEL, Queen's Road Mr Lister lacks confidence to some West Hongkong Christian Association extent as a speaker and has had Services for Seamon, on Sundays, at 7.30 no practice. The Council lost its best member, from at least an oratorical point of view, when Mr Bulkeley Johnson left. He was an able controversaat 6.30 P.M. Holy Communion, 1st Sunday was the most useful public man that has figured in this Colony during a long period of years. Mr Keswick, able and experienced business man and member of the Council as he undoubtedly is never shone us an orator, and seems St. Joseph's Church, Garden Road. - to have fallen off even more in 2 A.M. Mass and Sermon. 5.30 P.M. Even- this respect since his . last trin home. The Rupert of Debate would be more deserving of cognomen if, when he rises to his feet he could always grapple successfully with the intricacies of the English language. Sometimes Mr. Ryrie triumphs over the language, and sometimes the language triumphs over Mr

> But, although the present Council is feeble in an oratorical conso, yet we can say nahesitatingly it is the best and probably the ablest legislative body that has ever assembled in Hongkong. If the members cannot talk they can work. Its members are all old residents in the Colony: they have on intimate knowledge of its defects, and are most capable of considering the remedies, official, commercial or sanitary. Oratory is a useful accomplishment, but the e may be a great deal too much of i at meetings of legislative bodies, and really the community will observe with satisfaction there is little probability of the Council wasting its time in much eloquence. Our worthy Governor will. we presume, launch into rhetorical efforts occasionally, and ornament sufficiently, in an oratorical sense, the proceedings of the Council. The address given by His Excellency at the prorogation of the Council was an able production, and it showed that most satisfactory amount of work has been got through during the session. During the last four months there has been more legislative activ y displayed in the Colony than during muy other equal period of its history. This is chiefly owing to the fact that the meetings of the Council have been held weekly, instead of at irregular intervals as before. The institution of committees by the Governor must also linve largely facilitated the business, and no doubt at the same time lessened the opportunities for speechmaking at the meetings of the Council. There has been no friction between the Governor and members of the Council as in Sir John Pope Hennessy's timefriction which was not only productive of much unpleasantness but was a great hindrance to the progress of legislation. Mr Ryrie's remarks on the occasion were appropriate and deserved. His Excellency has brought the Legislative Council into better working on ier than ever it was in before; it has during the session performed an exceptionally large amount of useful work; and there appears to be a disposition from the Gov-786 ernor downward to have as much done in the way of public works and improve: ments as the finances of the Colony can possibly warrant. Even more work of this kind would probably be placed in hand if the finances of the Colony would permit of it. We must not however, go beyond our means.

THE Chinese Government has apparently taken a higher stand in regard to the Langson business than a disavowal of that affair. It says, in effect, that the post was held by the Chinese troops in 20 High water at Whampon : 2 hrs. 30 consequence of an order issued by itself mins. later than at Hongkong; at the to postpone evacuation of the Tonquin territory until a definitive Treaty between the two Powers had been signed. This means, we presume that China devies the right of France to carry out a particular provision of the Convention until the Trenty arranged for in that document has been finally settled. In other words, China defends the fighting on the grounds of international law. This may be a very good position for Chien, as a semi-civilized constry somewhat ignorant of the usages of internatio al law, to take up, especially for exciting sympathy on her behalf among European nations, but we are inclined to think international law will be found not to support her contention, By the Convention China engaged immediately to withdraw the Chinese gurrisons from Topquin. This can hardly be taken to mean in several months, when a freaty has been drawn up, signed and ratified.

twenty-eighth year. As a child, we are informed, the little cub's appearance was so much against him that he was turned out into the woods, where he literally picked up his living, subsisting on nuts and acquiring the habits of a wild beast. His face is said not to be lacking in intelligence, and the upper part of his body does not differ notably from that of a human being. His legs and feet are, however, formed like those of a bear, and, like a bear, he walks on all fours. Indeed, all his movements 11 A.M. -Mails closed, except for Late might be said by some people that the are described as bearish, and he is apt to new unofficial members had not given growl in an unpleasant manner. LONDON, July 4. M. Ferry announced that the attack on Langson had not been disavowed by the Chinese Foreign office, but that on the contrary the latter admits that an order had been issued to postpone evacuation of the territory until a definitive Treaty between the two powers had been signed.

In London there is not even a cobbler but has a piano in his back parlour. If people live in apartments here as they do in Paris, Bedlam, Colney Hatch, and all the other madhouses would never contain the pianos would send them. As it is, everybody has his house, and the evil is not so

Every woman, I might say without excontion, plays the pinner; but in a private room I have never heard a lady or a young girl play well enough to afford pleasure to a serious amateur. They play without the least expression. One of my compatriots and friends, a distinguished professor and composer, who teaches this instrument of torture in a great London ladies' college, complained one day to the head-mistress that his pupils played withoutany feeling or expression. Monsieur, answered the lady with a kind smile, 'I did not engage you to teach sentiment to my

It is the same with singing. You sometimes come across pretty voices, but they make no impression upon you; it is nothing but noise. Not a movement, not a muscle of the face relaxes; it is a mechanical action of the vocal chords, a mere physical pheno-

 I was one evening in a drawing-room. young lady who had travelled in Italy and studied music there, was asked to sing. She sang, and indeed with a good deal of taste, the pretty song by Arthur Sullivan : Let me dream again.

'That young lady sings very woll;' I said to a lady at my side. 'Yo-es,' she replied, with a little pout of scorn; but how affected she is, rolling her eyes, and putting her hand to heart All those gesticulations are highly ridiculous and very improper. One would think she was an actress.

The English, who know what awaits them in the drawing-room, have such an appreciation for chamber music, that the very sound of the piane is the signal for general conversation. When the piece is finished, the company leave off talking, and reward the amateur with a 'Thank you.

Punch, who knows them, represents Herr. Bogulobuffski in the act of executing a piece on the pianoforte. Seeing that everybody is engaged in conversation, he pauses, and says to the mistress of the house : 'I hope I am not in the way, and that I do not disturb conversation. 'Oh! not at all,' replies Mrs Ponsonby de Tomkyns; 'pray go on.' Public concerts, on the other hand, are excellent, and always well attended.

the greatest singers in the world can be heard in London. The orchestra of the Crystal Palace is perfection. The popular concerts of classical music at St. James's ports. Hall, the Richter concerts, those at the Albert Hall, Covent Garden, the Floral Hall during the season, cannot be surpassed. There you can hear Patti, Nilson, Albani, Joachim, Rubinstein, Charles Halle, Faure. Nicolini, etc. "J'en passe et des meilleurs."

John Bull is very attentive at such concorts. He listens with all his car. wonder why he does not listen to Herr Bogulobuffski in Mrs Ponsonby de Tomkyns's drawing-roum. The reason is that John is charged a guinea or half-a-guinea at these public concerts, and that he only really appreciates that which he has paid for, and paid-for properly.

The oratorio dourishes in England : it is the music for which John Bull shows a predilection. He likes these biblical subjects set to music. Look at him in his stall (profanation! I should say in his pew); he does not move, his eyes are closed that he may hear the better, just as he closes thom when he listens to a sermon. He is happy! it looks as if he had come to church. The oratorio is for him a foretaste of the delights that await him in the next world. At the Crystal Palace, he gets his oratorio with choruses of five thousand voices. The more there are the better he is pleased. 'Oh!' exclaimed an English. man who sat near me at one of these divine services, 'the Italians are all very well, but for oratorio you must have English singers, you know.' I am quite of his opinion, just as to make pastry you must have paste. It is true that some of these cratorios contain splendid passages, and that a great number of them were written by such men as Haydn, Handel, Bach, and Mendelssohn. But it is a curious fact that most of them were composed in England by these great masters; perhaps under the influence of the spleen; it is Thames fog set to music. An oratorio lasts from three hours to three hours and a half. In the country, at the great musical festivals of Bristol, Hereford, Leeds, and Birmingham, oratorios are given every day for a whole week, beginning with the Creation, and so on through the list : Abraham, Joseph, * Elijah, Judas, Maccabæus, the Messich, the Martyr of Antioch, by Arthur Sullivan, the English Offenbach, the Passion, St. Paul, etc., etc. The English will not be happy until the whole of the Bible is set to music.

"The indignation, with which Joseph rejects in B flat, the improper propositions of Mrs Potiphar, is epic!

A very self-sufficient and foolish M.P. said one day to a lady, 'I should certainly have succeeded rapidly and brilliantly if interrupting him, said 'Remember the good old rule, never speak ili of the absent.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutica Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street; Bloomsbury, London --Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but a over the East. As a remedy of genera utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now rele rated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhea and Dysontery, Spasms Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation 1096 during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms Cholera itself, we have witnessed its sur prisingly controlling power. We have neve used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Colli Browne's is a deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike.
